

OFFICE OF THE DEPUTY DIRECTOR

3 September 1971

General Cushman:

Attached for your information are pertinent documents on the 18 October presentation at the National War College which you agreed to handle if Col. White were away.

The subject of the talk is CIA and its role in the National Security process. It is essentially a Brookings-type presentation on a TS level. On the basis of past procedure your talk would begin at 0900. At 1000 hours you would be joined by the Deputies who would participate in the question session.

You and the Deputies have been invited to stay for lunch at the Ft. McNair Officers' Club. Last year Col. White declined the invitation. What is your preference? DBI is willing.

Deputies according to individual preference.
Is the general approach described above satisfactory?
